ARMY CAREER TRACKER (ACT)

Army Career Tracker (ACT) is a leadership development tool that integrates training and education, and experiential learning from a number of source systems into one personalized and easy to use interface, provides users a more efficient and effective way to monitor their career development, allows supervisors and career program managers to track and advise employees on their leadership development. In accordance with Army Regulation (AR 350-1, 10 Dec 2017), Individual Development Plans (IDPs) will be developed and updated annually in the Army Career Tracker (ACT) for all Army Civilians (excluding acquisition workforce).

ACT-Civilian key functionalities:

1. Civilian Home page: provides the Army Training and Leader Development Division the ability to generate targeted training notices and announcements to all (or select) Army Civilians. The Civilian home page provides links to access resources, news and a Civilian Employee Dashboard.
2. Civilian Employee Dashboard: provides a graphic snapshot of employees training and leader development status in comparison to members of its career programs.
3. Training Notices: allows employees to select a notice, open it and see the details and create professional and personal goals. Professional and personal goals are then displayed on the employee's Individual Develop Plan.
4. My Planner: My Planner is tied to the employee's specific career program, series and grade. It shows completed training and in-progress enrollments. It also shows recommended training based on career program competencies. It allows users to explore their career map and explore career maps of other career programs. From My Planner you can select a course (or competency or skill), search the training catalog and add that course as a goal and add to your IDP.
5. My Calendar: My calendar (separate from your daily work calendar) contains your professional and personal goals, events, and enrollments. It indicates to the employee whether goals are on track with a green, amber, red status bar. Employees can hover over any item on the Calendar and receive a pop-up with more detailed information.
6. My Activities: My activities is similar to the Calendar but in a more tabular format. It will display course enrollments, self-created events, personal goals, and professional goals. It allows the user to determine who can view certain aspects (i.e. supervisor, mentor, coach, career program manager). An employee can also create events or personal goals and indicate which ones they want to display on their IDP.
7. Individual Development Plan: The IDP provides a standardized template that is populated with the employee's information to include goals, events, assignments, training, etc generated from within ACT and other approved Source Systems. The employee can create, edit, delete, store and print their IDP. Requested training can include cost information such as tuition and expected travel costs. IDP creator has ability to prioritize training requests and training goals can span multiple years (FYs). Supervisors can send originators Notices and set an EVENT on MY CALENDAR (both options) to meet with the employee before approving the IDP. Supervisors can approve employee's IDP, aggregate their total workforce and use the cost information to support development of organizational training requirements.

8. Career Program Landing Page (home page): The CP landing page is managed by the Career Program Proponent/Content Administrator. From the CP landing page, CPMs can send targeted information to careerists, or to a specific set of careerists based on grade, series, and duty location. The CP landing page will contain the CP leadership structure (Functional Chief, Functional Chief Representative, Career Program Manager information, CP featured links, CP specific resources and news of interests to the members of their career programs. Employees can explore other CP landing pages as desired.
9. Career Map/Professional Development Model (PDM): The PDM is customized to the user who signs in and displays an employee's career map. Controlled by each Career Program, the data provided by the Career Program drives the PDM. In this section employees can also explore all other career maps
10. Find a Course: Employees can search for courses in the consolidated training catalog vice going to several different sites. Employees can set search criteria with keywords, start date, location, type of training (i.e. traditional classroom, distributed learning), etc. Upon finding a course, the system will provide a "deep link" to the source catalog to take the employee to the enrollment process. Employees can "save" searches and the system will provide a "shopping cart" function for employees to store courses as a wish list. This list will be available for employees to view when they return to this section (until deleted by the employee).
11. Supervisor Dashboard: The supervisor dashboard shows the supervisor (and/or mentor), a by name list of employees. It aggregates employee's data, allows the supervisor to drill down on specific individuals, or view all employees. Supervisors can see an employee's career map and individual development plan (once released by the employee to the supervisor).
12. My Journal: My journal provides 3 separate tabs...one for employee's supervisor and mentor, one private for the employee, and one for employees to share with their network. In the journal, employees can share ideas about a variety of subject matters, lessons learned from working on projects, shared knowledge, comments and recommendations about training courses, assignments, career management, etc. It is a network opportunity managed by the employee.
13. Find an Expert/Find a Mentor: Find an expert allows the Army, Career Programs, and employees the ability to search for "self-declared" experts based on skills and competencies to work on task forces, development opportunities, etc. It allows employees to search for mentors for professional development opportunities based on their expertise. It also allows employees to opt out of being a mentor.

Civilian Education System (CES) & Civilian Human Resource Training Application System (CHRTAS)

The Army Management Staff College educates and develops the Army Civilian Corps for leadership and management responsibilities throughout the Army and serves as Executive Agent for the Army Civilian Education System (CES). Additional program information can be located at: <http://usacac.army.mil/organizations/cace/amsc/courses>.

The Civilian Education System (CES) is a progressive and sequential leader development program that provides multiple levels of Civilian development and enhanced educational opportunities for Army Civilians throughout their careers. The method of delivery is distributed learning (DL), resident instruction, or blended learning – a mixture of both DL and resident instruction.

CES is required for supervisors and encouraged for aspiring supervisors and leaders.

Most permanent Army Civilians and Local National employees are centrally funded — the Army pays for your tuition, travel, and per diem centrally. It does not come out of your unit budget. Military members, term and temporary employees, and non-Department of the Army employees are funded through their own organizations.

CES Courses are available through the Civilian Human Resource Training Application System (CHRTAS). CHRTAS is an automated management system that allows you to develop and record your completed training, and apply for Civilian Education (CES) courses. Begin by preparing/updating your profile, which contains critical information needed to successfully process applications. Once this is complete, you can begin to search for courses and apply for training.

ACADEMIC DEGREE TRAINING (ADT)

General Information

Academic Degree Training (ADT) is defined as training or education with the stated objective of obtaining an academic degree. Training must contribute significantly to meeting an identified agency training need; resolve an identified agency staffing problem; or accomplish goals in the strategic plan of the agency. The training must be received from an accredited college or university.

Approval Authority

The authority to approve and to pay for the costs for Academic Degree Training (ADT) that is part of such approved programs is delegated to the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of Army (AASA), the Functional Chief Representatives (FCRs) of Army Career Programs, and the Commanders/Heads of Army Commands, Army Service Component Commands and Direct Reporting Units. Commanders and the AASA are authorized to approve ADT funded by command/organization training funds, and FCRs are authorized to approve ADT that is funded by Army Civilian Training, Education & Development Systems (ACTEDS) funds through a career program.

Eligibility

All members of the Army Civilian Corps are eligible to apply for Academic Degree Training (ADT), except those employees occupying or seeking to qualify for: (1) appointment to any position that is excepted from the competitive service because of its confidential, policy-determining, policy-making, or policy-advocating nature (i.e., Schedule C appointments); or 2) a non-career appointment in the Senior Executive Service (SES). Additionally, all applicants must have two (2) years of permanent, full time employment as a DA civilian at time of application.

Limitations

The academic degree must be related to the performance of the employee's official duties. The training must contribute significantly to meeting an organization's identified: training need; staffing problem; or accomplishing goals in the strategic plan of the organization. The training must be accredited and provided by a college or university that is accredited by a nationally recognized body, which a regional, national or international is accrediting organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. Please consult the ED.gov website for a listing.

Funding

ADT may be funded by the Career Program with ACTEDS/central funds or through Command funding; applications that exceed $50k require a justification memorandum to be provided to the HQDA, G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division, prior to Functional Chief Representative (FCR) or Commander/AASA approval. The justification will include a cost comparison of accredited local and online schools that offer similar degree programs, which fully supports the higher level of funds expenditure for a significant return on investment (ROI) to the Army, and will be signed by the FCR (when Career Program funded) or by the Commander/AASA (when Command funded).

Authorized Expenses

All or part of necessary expenses, to include tuition and matriculation fees; library and laboratory services, purchase or rental of books, materials, supplies; and other services or facility costs directly related to the training. Membership fees ONLY if the fee is a condition of attending the training.

Application/Notification Process

Refer to Command or Career Program internal process, according to funding source.

Funding document

Standard Form (SF-182).

-Approved Career Program funded applicants must initiate a SF-182 for training in the GoArmyEd system.

-Approved Command funded applicants must initiate a SF-182 for training in accordance with local established procedures.

Continue Service Agreement (CSA)

Before training begins, employees selected for ADT must sign an agreement to continue service in the Department of the Army (after training), for at least three times the length of the training period (may be based on semester hours).

DESCRIPTION: The Army Congressional Fellowship Program is an 18-month program for Army Civilians, which includes pursuit of a Master's Degree in Legislative Affairs at George Washington University, and service on the staff of a Member of Congress. The purpose of ACFP is to educate and train selected Army officers and civilians in all aspects of congressional activities, emphasizing those matters regarding the Department of Defense (DOD). The GWU MPS in Legislative Affairs consists of a rigorous, 11-course program focused on Congress. The curriculum exposes students to all aspects of the congressional experience. SENIOR ENTERPRISE TALENT MANAGEMENT (SETM) AND ENTERPRISE TALENT MANAGEMENT (ETM)

The SET and ETM programs are key components of the Army's Civilian Training, Education, and Leadership, Development Program. SETM/ETM prepares Army Civilians to assume positions of greatest responsibility across the Department. The programs provide exceptional training and development opportunities for the next generation of Army Civilian leaders. SETM/ETM programs is managed by the Civilian Senior Leader Development Office (CSLDO). APPLY at the following link: <https://www.csldo.army.mil/>.

SETM/ETM Programs consists of nine modules:

a. ENTERPRISE PLACEMENT PROGRAM (EPP) and DESIGNATION AS AN ARMY ENTERPRISE EMPLOYEE (SES Detail) is open only to senior Army Civilians currently in a grade GS-15 (or equivalent) position who have completed their probationary period as a civil servant who apply and are selected as AEEs based on past performance and demonstrated potential. The EPP enables designated AEEs to be eligible for consideration for placement in a position of greater scope and responsibility:

(1) EPP selecting officials may consider AEEs for a detail assignment of up to 1 year to a designated Army Senior Executive Service (SES) position. EPP enhances organizational efficiency by providing a designated AEE with a challenging senior-level assignment while allowing a selecting official the opportunity to temporarily fill an SES position.

(2) A mobility agreement IS NOT required for detail to an SES position.

(3) The number of applicants who may be considered and selected for participation in EPP is not limited.

EPP is currently on HOLD----Not accepting applications***

b. PROJECT-BASED SETM TEMPORARY DUTY (TDY) ASSIGNMENTS – This component of the SETM Program is open to all senior Army Civilians in grades GS-14 and GS-15 (or equivalents) who apply and are selected for participation. These short-term developmental assignments are intended to challenge the participant and provide a “broadening” experience. This SETM module consists of a TDY assignment to work on a special project nominated by a command or organization as part of a working group or “tiger team,” or to fill a “critical need” detail for a period not to exceed 179 days. Upon completion of the TDY assignment, participants return to their permanent duty stations. A mobility agreement IS NOT required, but SETM TDY participants will be subject to the provisions of a continued service agreement (enclosure 8). The number of applicants who may be selected for participation in the SETM TDY module is not limited.

c. SENIOR SERVICE COLLEGE (SSC) - SSC is the apex of Army professional development and prepares senior Army Civilians for positions of significant responsibility in the Department of Defense (DoD) and Department of the Army. This SETM module is open to applicants in grades GS-14 and GS-15 (or equivalents) who will compete for allocated seats at the U.S. Army War College (Resident or Distance Education Program) or the Eisenhower School for National Security and Resource Strategy (acquisition or non-acquisition course). Attendance at an SSC is designed to expand students' knowledge of the national security mission and strengthen their understanding of the complex policy and operational challenges senior DoD and Army officials face. The SSC develops students to assume strategic-level leadership roles in the joint, interagency, intergovernmental, and multinational environments, with an emphasis on the employment of land power. SSC Resident students will be assigned into a Civilian Personnel Training Account (CPTA). On completion of the program, graduates are placed in duty positions intended to leverage the competencies fostered at the SSC in locations where the Army most needs their capabilities. Students who complete SSC in residence are subject to the Graduate Placement Program (GPP). Accordingly, each applicant for resident SSC must execute and submit a mobility agreement and continued service agreement. Distance learning SSC applicants opting to be a part of the GPP also must complete mobility and continued service agreements.

Distance learning SSC applicants opting not to participate in the GPP must complete only a continued service agreement. The number of applicants selected for attendance at an SSC is limited to the number of slots the Army War College and Eisenhower School allocate for Civilians.

d. DEFENSE SENIOR LEADER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM (DSLDP) - Open to senior Army Civilians in grades GS-14 and GS-15 (or equivalents), DSLDP is DoD's premier Civilian leadership program. A 2-year comprehensive educational and developmental program, DSLDP is designed to inculcate in participants the enterprise wide perspective needed to lead organizations and programs, and to achieve results in the joint, interagency, and multinational environments. Selection to DSLDP is a three-part process: application through the SETM Program, selection by the SETM Board process for Army nomination to DoD, and selection for participation in DSLDP by a DoD Selection Board. DSLDP includes attendance at an SSC (other than the SSC sponsored by the Service the participant is affiliated with; in this case, the Army War College); participation in programmed leadership seminars; and a follow-on developmental assignment. DSLDP students will be assigned into a CPTA. All DSLDP graduates are subject to the GPP. Accordingly, each applicant must execute and submit a mobility agreement and continued service agreement. The number of applicants nominated to DoD for selection for DSLDP is limited by the quota DoD imposes.

e. ARMY SENIOR CIVILIAN FELLOWSHIP (ASCF) - This component of the SETM Program is limited to senior Army Civilians in grades GS-14 and GS-15 (or equivalents). ASCF affords participants, known as "fellows," the opportunity to engage in postgraduate study of issues of importance to the Army, DoD, and Nation. ASCF offers fellows further opportunity to apply their knowledge of the national security mission to the study of complex policy and operational challenges senior DoD and Army officials face. Upon completion of ASCF, fellows are placed in duty positions intended to leverage the competencies fostered in ASCF in locations where the Army most needs their capabilities. ASCF students will be assigned into a CPTA. ASCF fellows are subject to a GPP. Accordingly, each applicant must execute and submit a mobility agreement and continued service agreement. A fellow may be required to file an OGE Form 450 (Confidential Financial Disclosure Report). The number of available ASCF fellowships determines the number of applicants selected for participation.

f. ETM Shadowing Assignments. This module is open to select Army Civilians in grade GS-13 or equivalent. An ETM Shadowing participant has the opportunity to accompany and observe a senior leader in action in his/her daily work environment for up to 20 working days. The senior leader may involve the ETM participant in the task at hand. The benefits of shadowing include experiencing what it is like to work as a senior Civilian at the Army enterprise level, having the ability to ask questions while the senior leader goes about his/her daily activities, and validating perceptions about a particular field of work. The number of applicants who may be considered for participation is based on Army resources and needs.

g. ETM TDY ASSIGNMENTS - The ETM TDY module is open to select Army Civilians in grade GS-13 or equivalent. An ETM TDY participant will fill a short-term developmental assignment on a special project as a member of a working group or tiger team, or will fill a critical need detail for a period not to exceed 90 days. The benefits of an ETM TDY assignment include new and challenging work in a different work environment and a broadening experience at the enterprise level. Upon completion of the TDY assignment, participants return to their permanent duty stations. A mobility agreement IS NOT required, but ETM TDY participants will be subject to the provisions of a continued service agreement. The number of applicants who may be considered and selected for participation is based on Army resources and needs.

h. ETM COMMAND AND GENERAL STAFF COLLEGE (CGSOC) - The ETM CGSOC resident attendance module is open to select Army Civilians in grade GS-13 or equivalent and, by exception, Army Civilians in grade GS-12 or equivalent, as outlined in enclosure 17. Following 1 month in the Preparation Course, an ETM CGSOC participant will attend CGSOC Developmental School, a 10-month graduate-level program at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The benefits of participating in ETM CGSOC are an increased knowledge of the operational and tactical Army and preparation for the challenges faced in a dynamic and complex global environment. CGSOC PCS students will be assigned into a CPTA. Each applicant for resident CGSOC must execute and submit a mobility agreement and continued service agreement. CGSOC graduates selecting the permanent change of station option are subject to the GPP. The number of applicants who may be selected for participation is limited by the number of slots the Deputy Chief of Staff (DCS), G-3/5/7 and U.S. Army Command and General Staff College allocate to Civilians.

i. ETM EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM (ELDP) - The ETM ELDP module is a DoD program open to select Army Civilians in grades GS-12 and GS-13 or equivalents. An ETM ELDP participant will attend a 10-month series of learning and training experiences that blend experiential and academic learning with hands-on exercises focused on the role of the warfighter. The benefits of participating in ETM ELDP include joint, interagency, and enterprise wide experience; a greater understanding of the DoD mission and culture; and leadership training that parallels selected military training and ensures cross-component exposure. The number of applicants who may be selected for participation in ETM ELDP is limited to the number of slots the DoD ELDP program allocates to the Army.

Army Civilian Career Programs

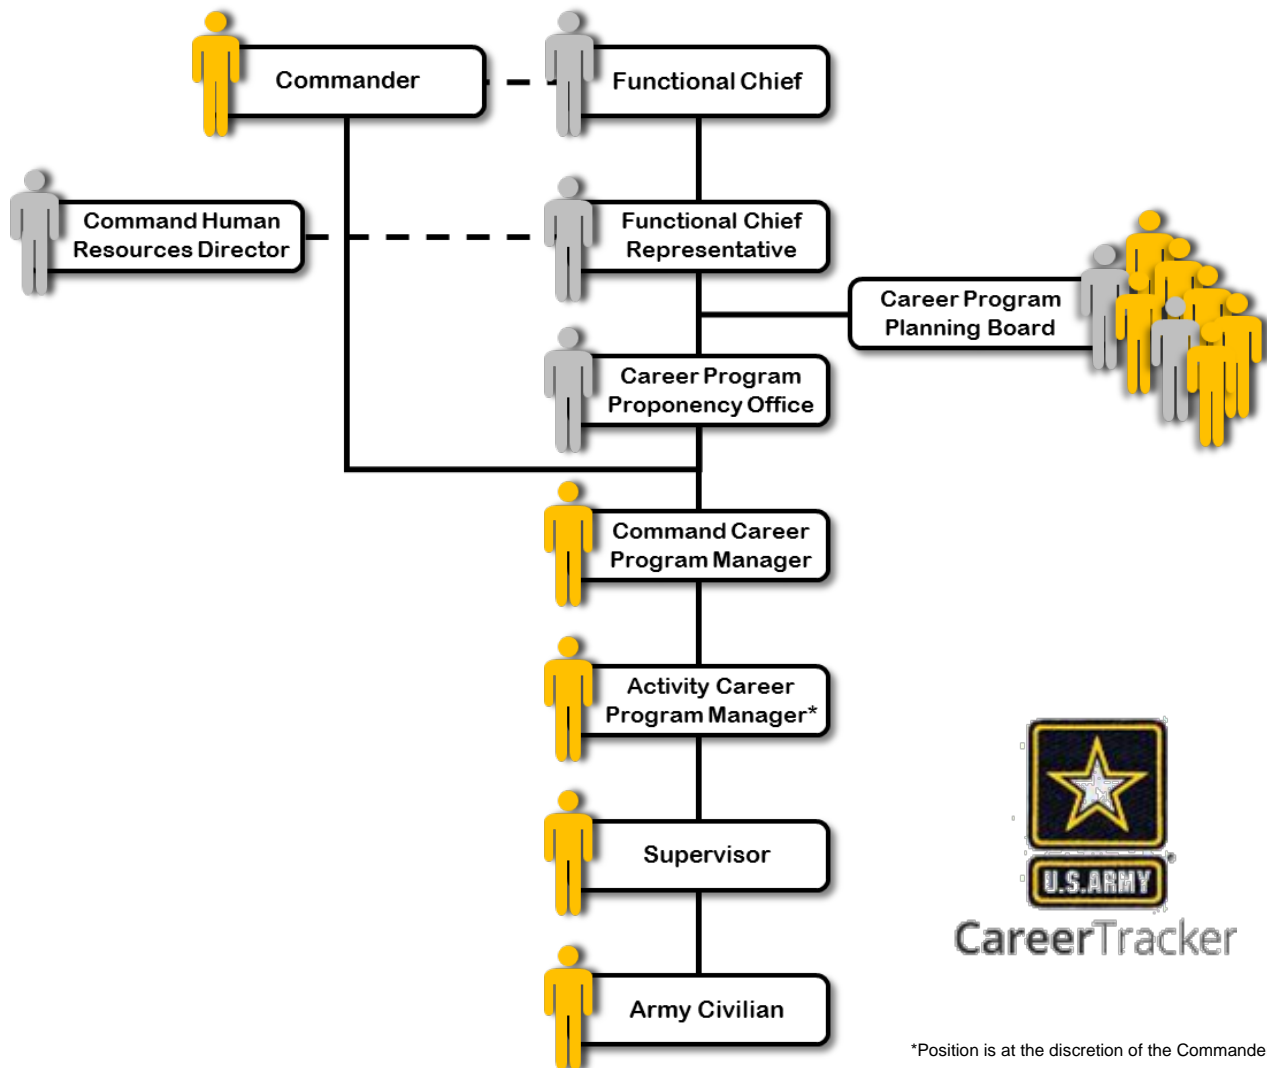

Army Regulation 690-950 Career Program Management, 16 December 2016

The Army recognizes 31 Army Civilian Career Programs or specialized professional communities. All Army Civilians are “mapped” or assigned to a Career Program by virtue of their Position Description.

The Army Civilian Career Programs system exists to maximize the talent of the Army Civilian Corps and to afford each Army Civilian the opportunity to pursue career aspirations. The responsibility to pursue this opportunity ultimately belongs to the Army Civilian. Army Civilians establish their career goals and actively engage their supervisors and Command Career Program Managers (Activity Career Program Managers if applicable) on strategies to achieve these goals.

Specific Career Program information is available at Army Career Tracker; learn more about the Army Civilian Career Programs system at AR 690-950.

Chapter 4 Civilian Training, Education and Development

Section I

Civilian Training, Education and Development

4-1. Training and Developing the Army Civilian Corps

a. Training and development of the Army Civilian Corps is required to sustain a mission-ready Army. The Army is increasingly reliant on its Civilian Corps to support the operating force. The environment within which members of the Army Civilian Corps function is characterized by increasing complexity, to include highly networked organizations and more decentralized operations. Because of increased interaction with unified action partner organizations, members of the Army Civilian Corps must be culturally aware and able to interact with a diverse set of partners. Like their uniformed counterparts, Civilian employees must be functionally proficient, and technically competent skilled leaders who are fully capable, adaptable, and totally committed to supporting the Army's mission.

b. 5 USC 4101 provides the authority to train Army Civilian employees.

c. Training is defined as the process of providing for and making available to an employee, and placing or enrolling the employee in a planned, prepared, and coordinated program, course, curriculum, subject, system, or routine of instruction or education, in scientific, professional, technical, mechanical, trade, clerical, fiscal, administrative, or other fields which will improve individual and organizational performance and assist in achieving the agency's mission and performance goals.

d. Training may occur in a government facility (for example, TRADOC), other military schools, and Government-supported schools and when properly coordinated and approved, in a non-Government facility (for example, accredited universities, colleges offering accredited programs, and industry).

e. Mission-related functional training is training required to support Army goals by improving organizational performance at any appropriate level. This includes training that:

- (1) Supports the Army's strategic plan and organizational objectives;
- (2) Improves an employee's current job performance and/or competencies, or closes an existing competency gap;
- (3) Allows for expansion or enhancement of an employee's current job by developing new competencies;
- (4) Enables an employee to perform needed or potentially needed duties outside the current job at the same level of responsibility;
- (5) Meets organizational needs in response to human resource plans and re-engineering, downsizing, or other program changes;
- (6) Develops employee competencies to facilitate career progression; or
- (7) Supports recruitment strategies for "hard to fill" jobs.

f. Retraining provides training and development to address an individual's skills that are obsolete for their current position and/or training and development to prepare an individual for a different occupation, in order to meet emerging requirements.

Section II

Civilian Education

4-2. Civilian Leader Development

The Army Civilian leader development programs help to prepare agile and innovative Army Civilians who can lead during times of change and uncertainty; are prepared for the rigors of service as multi-skilled leaders; and are armed with the values, skills and mindset to serve as competent, resilient member of the Army Civilian Corps. The professional attitudes and beliefs that characterize the Department of the Army Civilian are found in the Civilian Creed (see ADRP 6-22).

4-3. The Civilian Education System

a. The CES program is the Army's leader development program for all Army Civilians. It provides progressive and sequential education for Army Civilians at key positions throughout their careers. Courses of instruction are provided through blended learning - DL and resident instruction. CES courses are to be taken in sequence over a period of time as Army Civilians progress through their careers. Course applications are completed through CHRTAS.

b. CES courses are the core leader development courses for most Army Civilians based on grade and equivalent pay band level as they progress through their careers. See eligibility requirements and priorities for resident training classes.

c. CES courses are targeted at the Army Civilian GS grade levels and equivalent pay bands and pay scales, as follows:

- (1) Foundation Course. GS 1-15 and equivalent pay band/scale new hires.

- (2) Basic Course. GS 1–9 and equivalent pay band/scale.
- (3) Intermediate Course. GS 10–12 and equivalent pay band/scale.
- (4) Advanced Course. GS 13–15 and equivalent pay band/scale.
- (5) Continuing Education for Senior Leaders. GS 14–15 and equivalent pay band/scale.

d. Funding.

(1) Most permanent Army Civilians (to include appropriated funds (AF), nonappropriated funds (NAFs), local nations, and wage grade) are centrally funded for CES training by DCS, G–37/(Training Directorate).

(2) Military members, term and temporary Army Civilians, and non-Army employees, are funded through their organizations.

e. Supervisors and managers are responsible for setting guidelines that allow employees duty time to complete required DL training for CES courses. Guidelines can be in the form of a written or verbal agreement and should articulate a study schedule and timeline for the employee to complete the course.

f. Civilian Education System Course Equivalency. A complete listing may be found on the CHRTAS website. Credit for previous training completion is auto-determined by the CHRTAS. The individual profile in CHRTAS will show that CES requirements have been met through equivalent credit.

g. Civilians who have completed SSC are exempt from CES requirements except for the Foundation Course when hired after 30 September 2006.

4–4. Foundation Course

a. The Foundation Course goal is to provide Army Civilians with an orientation to leader development concepts, to start building their careers as Army Civilian leaders. Training instances may be short- or long-term and funded from various sources.
- b. Short-term training. Training of 120 calendar days or less is considered short-term training. Training instances may include, but are not limited to, professional workshops, seminars, and university courses. Attendance at workshops and seminars must have a demonstrated training purpose and must be documented in each respective Career Program Field Master Training Plan or IDP. Employees should contact their supervisors and/or respective Activity Career PMs for specific program information and/or application procedures.
- c. Long-term training. Long-term training and education is training to which an employee is assigned on a continuous, full-time basis for more than 120 calendar days. The assignment may be at either government or non- government facilities and may include both formal training programs and strategically planned career assignments. This training enables employees to stay abreast of changes and innovations in their occupational fields, learn new skills, or develop/improve abilities needed in current positions and meet emerging Army requirements.

Employees who do not return to duty must either use annual leave during school breaks or their supervisor must certify that the student will be fully involved in a research/study project related to the training assignment.

d. Developmental assignments. Developmental assignments provide activities a way to enhance competencies by giving employees an opportunity to perform duties in other occupational, functional, or organizational elements. This enhances employee understanding of other operations, systems, and relationships. The length of assignments may vary, but must have a well-defined learning objective and be established in conformance with all applicable civilian personnel management regulations.

e. Training with industry. This is a non-degree producing program designed to provide training, skills, and/or best business procedures and practices not available through existing military or advanced Army Civilian schooling programs for identifiable DOD requirements. This does not include SSC, ELDP and the DSLDP, which have a separate application and board process.

(4) The SF 182 (Authorization, Agreement and Certification of Training) is Army's official document for requesting, approving and documenting training. If an employee attends a training event prior to receiving official approval, to include a fund citation, he/she will be responsible for all associated training costs.

4–16. Senior Enterprise Talent Management Program

a. The SETM and ETM Programs are structured Army Civilian professional development system designed to meet the Army's long-term performance needs in a productive and efficient way. SETM and ETM are the means by which the Army prepares its senior Army Civilians to assume duty positions of greatest responsibility across the Army. These programs are designed to afford selected GS–12–15 and equivalent Army Civilians an exceptional professional development, senior-level educational or experiential learning opportunity.

b. The SETM and ETM programs operates in accordance with the policy and procedures set forth in Army directive 2017–13 under the overall supervision and oversight of the ASA (M&RA) and will be executed by the Civilian Service Leader Management Office (CSLMO). The ASA (M&RA) and CSLMO will ensure that SETM complements and leverages other DOD and Army leader development programs and initiatives, while avoiding duplication.

c. The Senior Enterprise Talent Management and enterprise talent management programs are comprised of nine components. Enterprise Placement Program Senior Executive Service Details; Project-Based SETM TDY Assignments; attendance at a SSC; attendance at the Defense Senior Leader Development Program; Army Senior Civilian Fellowships; Command and General Staff Officers Course; Executive Leader Development Program; Project-Based ETM TDY Assignments; and Leadership Shadowing Experiences.

d. Participation in Enterprise Placement Program. This component affords selecting officials an opportunity to consider AEEs for an SES detail assignment of up to 1 year to a designated Army SES position. The program enhances organizational efficiency by providing a designated AEE with a challenging senior-level assignment while allowing a selecting official the opportunity to temporarily fill an SES position. A mobility agreement is required. The number of applicants who may be considered and selected for participation in the Enterprise Placement Program is not limited.

This component offers short-term developmental assignments intended to challenge and provide a broadening experience to the employee. This component consists of a TDY assignment to work on a special project nominated by a command or organization, as part of an ad hoc working group or to fill a critical need detail for a period not to exceed 179 days. Upon completion of the TDY assignment, the employee returns to his/her permanent duty station with no further obligation. A mobility agreement is not required. The number of applicants who may be considered and selected for participation in the SETM TDY module is limited only by available funding.

f. Participation in a SSC. This component is open to Army Civilians in grades GS–14/15 (or their equivalents) who will compete for allocated seats at the USAWC (Resident or DEP) or the Eisenhower School for National Security and Resource Strategy and are subject to the Graduate Placement Program. For additional policy and qualification requirements refer to the Army Civilian section on SSC policy.

h. Participation in ASCF. This component affords participants, known as “fellows,” the opportunity to engage in post-graduate study of issues of importance to the Army, DOD, and the Nation. ASCF offers fellows further opportunity to apply their knowledge of the national security mission to the study of complex policy and operational challenges senior DoD and Army officials face. Upon completion of ASCF, fellows are placed in duty positions intended to leverage the competencies fostered in ASCF and at locations where the Army most needs their capabilities. ASCF fellows are subject to a GPP. Accordingly, each applicant must execute and submit a mobility agreement and continued service agreement. A fellow may be required to file an OGE Form 450 (Confidential Financial Disclosure Report). The number of available ASCF fellowships determines the number of applicants selected for ASCF participation.

An ETM Shadowing participant has the opportunity to accompany and observe a senior leader in action in his/her daily work environment for up to 20 working days. The senior leader may involve the ETM participant in the task at hand. The benefits of shadowing include experiencing what it is like to work as a senior Civilian at the Army enterprise level, the ability to ask questions while the senior leader goes about their daily activities and validation of perceptions about a particular field of work. The number of applicants who may be considered for participation in ETM Shadowing is based on Army resources and needs.

j. Participation in ETM–TDY. The ETM TDY module is open to select Army Civilians in grade GS–13 or equivalent. An ETM TDY participant will fill a short-term developmental assignment on a special project as a member of a working group or tiger team, or will fill a critical need detail for a period not to exceed 90 days. Upon completion of the TDY assignment, participants return to their permanent duty stations; a mobility agreement IS NOT required, but ETM TDY participants will be subject to the provisions of a continued service agreement. The number of applicants who may be considered and selected for participation in ETM TDY is based on Army resources and needs.

Section VI

Senior Executive Service Education

4-23. Senior Executive Service Education, Training and Development

a. The Department of the Army SES members are the Army Civilian equivalent to general officers, and include top executive, managerial, supervisory and political appointment positions. The SES members are individuals who are highly agile and skilled in their function, who can successfully lead a wide spectrum of operations and who are adaptive to challenges. SES members demonstrate technical expertise, confidence, integrity, critical judgment and adaptability. Army Senior Executives can: operate in complex and fluid environments; build teams amid technological changes; provide vision and direction; and solve problems creatively.

b. SES members require a broad core of executive qualifications or abilities in addition to professional, technical and program knowledge and skills. The Office of Personnel Management validated five executive core qualifications required of SES members: leading change, leading people, results driven, business acumen, and building coalitions.

c. The Civilian Senior Leader Management Office (CSLMO), Office of the ASA (M&RA), provides centralized life-cycle management and administration for the Army SES personnel. The CSLMO plans, manages, and executes the Army's SES Education, Training and Development Program with the advice and support of the Army's Executive Resource Board (ERB). The goal of the program is to foster a culture of continuous learning that enhances leadership competencies through education, training and experiences in department, joint, interagency, intergovernmental and multinational environments.

d. The SES Education, Training and Development Program is comprised of: Mandatory Foundation Training, Position Based Training, Advanced Continuing Education, Joint Qualifying Training, Talent and Succession Management (TSM), and ERB results. The SECARMY TSM Board enables the Army's senior leadership to target SES members for competency enhancing developmental assignments. The TSM ensures that an Executive's potential is developed through career opportunities and that skills and talent are utilized to meet Army enterprise challenges, both today and in the future. The ERB may identify SES members for developmental assignments, reassignment or further education or training. ERB directed education or training takes precedence when prioritizing applicants for constrained course allocations.

e. The Army Senior Executive Education, Training and Development Program is managed through ATRRS Schoolhouse, 0120. Senior Executives can view courses offered in the School house by clicking on Executive Education in the left-hand menu of the CSLMO homepage at www.cslmo.army.mil. Senior executives can apply for courses through Executive CHRTAS, an application and funding system. A link to Executive CHRTAS is located at the bottom of each course description on the webpage. Questions regarding training and educational opportunities or recommendations on further training programs, can be directed to the CSLMO Training Branch available at cslmotrainingbranch@us.army.mil.

f. Executive Development Plan. Per 5 Code of Federal Regulation (CFR) 412.101, all senior executives are required to have an Executive Development Plan (EDP). The EDP is located within the Executive CHRTAS application. Newly appointed Senior Executives will receive an initial EDP that is auto-filled with Mandatory Foundation Training requirements and suspense dates (18 months) for completion. They, in conjunction with their supervisor, can further modify the EDP to meet the new Executive's developmental needs. EDPs will also be created for each seasoned senior executive. These EDPs will contain the senior executive's training history, which should be validated upon receipt. They also, in collaboration with their supervisors, are required to plan future development using the EDP tool.

g. Newly appointed senior executives are required to attend the following mandatory foundation training within 18 months of appointment to an Army Senior Executive position. Completion of all mandatory foundational training is a new executive's first training priority, and all required training must be completed prior to attendance at any discretionary training courses.

(1) Force Integration Course for Senior Leaders. The course provides a systematic overview of "how the Army runs". SES members and general officers, in an integrated training environment, learn the constitutional, statutory and regulatory basis for the force projection Army and the capability that must be sustained through management of doctrinal, organization and materiel change. They will understand Army organizational roles, functions and missions, especially at the Army secretariat and Staff levels.

(2) Army Senior Leader Communications Workshop. An Executive Communication Team provides one-on-one media training tailored to the specific needs of each Executive that equips the Senior Leader, who may be called upon to represent the Army, with an understanding of how the media operates and the tools needed to take control of the interview process. The focus of the workshop is to work effectively with the media and to tailor messages to reflect a sense of control and composure during an interview. Test practices are portrayed in this program to prepare Senior Executives for that moment in time when they are thrust into the limelight of national television.

(3) Army Senior Executive Education Program - Basic course. A program that orients newly appointed Executives to the Army. Army Senior Executives are recruited from a wide variety of sources, from internal promotions to academia, industry and other Federal agencies. As a result, the ASEEP-B Course offers guidance from the Secretary of the Army on Army's critical missions and the expectations of Army Senior Leaders in fulfilling those missions, as well as basic skill sets in how to conduct business, legally and ethically, at the Senior Executive level. ASEEP-B also incorporates Diversity Awareness Training that provides Civilian senior Executives insight into fostering a diverse workforce.

(4) Army Senior Executive Education Program - Intermediate Course. The Intermediate Course is the second of three programs designed to provide Army executives with a continuous learning program. The ASEEP-I is designed for mid-career Executives who need to desire an opportunity to update and refresh critical Executive competencies.

h. The CSLMO SES Education, Training and Development Program offers Army Senior Executives a wide variety of advanced training and educational opportunities that expand their understanding of Army's mission and enhance critical Executive competencies. Courses range from Department offering in Joint strategy to national security studies from academic institutions and interagency/multi-agency seminars from such organizations as the Department of State. Examples of other course offerings:

(1) APEX Orientation Program. APEX is DOD's orientation for Executives to the joint working environment. It is appropriate for newly appointed Executives who are within the first 2 years of appointment. The objective of the APEX orientation course is to improve the new Executive's effectiveness on the job through enhanced leadership and decision making strategies, an increased understanding of the Department's structure and processes critical to its operation, the integration of DOD and Component priorities, and by fostering a sense of jointness. Executives will be introduced to: the structure and processes of the OSD, CCMD, Joint Staff and the military departments as they contribute to DOD's mission; the priorities and challenges of other Federal agencies and the Defense industry as they contribute to National Security in partnership with DOD; an enterprise-wide perspective that encompasses leadership expectations and challenges currently facing DOD leaders; and the changing role of the SES corps with the DOD.

(2) Army Strategic Leadership Development Program - Intermediate. Educates Army senior leaders by providing awareness of the necessary skill sets to be strategic leaders of change and managers of the Army institution/enterprise. The Standard Form (SF) 182 (Authorization Agreement and Certification of Training), will be used to approve, procure, and certify completion and evaluation of training for Army Civilian employees obtained from Federal Government or non-Government facilities. This includes training or education courses, conventions, conferences, symposiums, meetings, workshops, and other events if the primary reason for the activity is to train or develop Army Civilians to meet mission needs. (2) ACTEDS-managed by HQDA to support leader development and functional training.

b. ACTEDS funds may be used for permanent local national employees of comparable pay grades (when their salaries are funded with OMA dollars), USAR, ARNG, and USACE Civil Works and cemeteries funded employees registered in a career program and meeting all other eligibility requirements.

c. Local national employees whose salaries are funded from other appropriations may apply for competitive professional development training opportunities, but the respective organization must fund associated training costs.

d. GoArmyEd is the training management system for Army Civilians to apply for most centrally managed and centrally-funded competitive professional development training, education and leader development events. Army Civilians, supervisors, career program managers, and training managers must have active accounts in Army Career Tracker and GoArmyEd in order to apply for and approve training.

c. HQDA ACTEDS funds may be used to fund one annual Career Program Planning Board meeting, to include related travel expenses, as long as the purpose of the board is to improve the conduct, supervision, or management of Career Program functions and activities.

d. Only officials with budget authority may approve the use of appropriated funds or funds otherwise available to the DA to pay expenses for obtaining training courses and/or certificates.

e. TDY and local travel for ACTEDS-funded training is administered as follows:

(1) TDY and local travel expenses for approved competitive professional development training are centrally funded by DCS, G-3/5/7 (G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division). Per diem allowance for travel from home station to the training site and travel back to home station upon completion of training is not authorized unless approved in advance.

(2) Per diem rates include a maximum amount of lodging expenses. Reimbursement may not exceed actual lodging costs or the applicable maximum amount. Receipts for lodging are required.

(3) Reimbursement for baggage fee is authorized. Reimbursement is limited to 1 bag for training 2 weeks or less, 2 bags for training over 2 weeks.

(3) Fail to complete the terms outlined in their continued service agreement.

b. DCS, G-3/5/7 (G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division) is the proponent for the waiver/recoup process for HQDA centrally-funded training instances.

c. Commands and/or activities are responsible for developing, implementing and monitoring the waiver/recoupment process for recapturing costs for training that is fully funded by the command when any of the conditions in paragraph 4-29a occur. Requests for waivers of repayment, to include continued service obligations, may only be granted by the first general officer or SES within the employee’s chain of command. Proper documentation must be maintained for 6 years, 3 months after the date a request for waiver is evaluated/granted.

d. The SF 182 is the Army’s official document for requesting, approving and documenting training. If an employee attends a training event prior to receiving official approval, to include a fund citation, they will be responsible for all associated training costs.

The period of service obligation will be equal to at least three times the length of the training period, at a minimum. Command or career program funding the training may require more time based on associated training costs. Calculation of the continued service obligation period will not include weekends or federal holidays. The obligation period begins on the first duty day following the completion of training, or program of study.

b. Employees who voluntarily separate from Army service (to include transfer of service to another DOD Component or other organization in any branch of the Federal Government) or are involuntarily separated, for cause or poor performance, before completing the agreed period of service will be required to reimburse the Army, on a pro rata basis, for all associated training and travel cost (excluding salary or other compensation). When in the best interest of the Government, or when contrary to equity and good conscience, or the public interest, Army may transfer the service obligation to the gaining DOD Component or other organization in the federal government, or may waive any part of the employee’s obligation to pay training expenses.

c. Requests for full or partial waiver of the Army's right to recover training cost (to include travel), or an appeal for transfer of service obligation, must be submitted in memorandum format through the employee's chain of command and the respective Career Program to DCS, G-3/5/7 (G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division).

(1) For consideration, HQDA must be notified at least 20 working days before the effective date of employee's transfer of service to the new organization, in order for Army to determine recoverable costs, or request will be denied.

(2) At a minimum, the memorandum will include the name of the course/ program, date(s) of training, total cost of training (including travel costs), and a detailed explanation reflecting why the employee did not attend training, did not successfully complete the training, or failed to complete requirements of the continued service agreement. A copy of the approved SF182 (to include the continued service agreement), that authorized the training event must be included with the request for waiver of repayment.

d. DCS, G-3/5/7 (G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division) will review requests for waivers of repayment of training expenses and determine if an employee is obligated to repay all or any portion of training costs, or transfer service to the new agency and provide a recommendation to the DCS, G-3/5/7 (G-37/Director of Training) for decision. HQDA will provide timely notification of decision through the functional career representative prior to employee's effective date with the gaining agency.

e. The functional career representative is responsible for notifying the command/employee and ensuring repayment instructions are followed, as directed. Any amount that may be due to the Army as a result of the employee's failure to meet the terms of the CSA, may be withheld from any monies owed the employee by the Government, or may be recovered by such other methods as are approved by law.

f. Requests for waivers of repayment of training costs for command/organization funded training instances must be approved by the first general officer or SES within the employee's chain of command.

g. The ASA M&RA is the sole approving authority for request for waiver of Academic Degree Training (ADT) cost. For command funded ADT, request for waiver of training cost must be submitted in memorandum format through the employee's chain of command and G-37/Civilian Training and Leader Development Division to ASA M&RA. For Career Program funded ADT, requests must be submitted through the respective FCR and G-37 to ASA M&RA.

Supervisors and managers are responsible for establishing guidelines that allow employee's duty time to complete portions of approved training courses funded by the Army.

b. Guidelines can be in the form of a written or verbal agreement and should articulate a study schedule and timeline for the employee to complete the course.

b. Army commanders and the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Army have been delegated authority to approve payment for expenses to obtain professional credentials, including expenses for professional accreditation, professional licenses, certification and examinations to obtain such credentials. This applies to both appropriated fund and non-appropriated fund employees. There is no special funding provision for this program; the cost of the (credential or certification) repayment will come from the approving activity's budget and will not be funded with ACTEDS funds.

c. Payment for employee credential/certification documents will be conducted on a reimbursable basis, and must be officially approved, via an SF 182, prior to successful receipt of the credential/certification. Reimbursement will be through GFEBs to the local resource management office. Reimbursement of expenses may not be retroactive.

d. Payment of expenses under this authority is not an entitlement. Continued payment of expenses associated with licenses and certification is discretionary and not guaranteed.
